Woman's Page

UNCLE SAM WOULD LIKE TO HAVE YOU—

Don't limit the food of growing children.

Don't eat more food than is needed. Cut down the amount of wheat flour breadstuffs you have been in the habit of serving to your family and increase the graham, oatmeal, cornmeal, bran, rye and whole wheat breads and biscuits.

Put the loaf of bread on the table at each meal and cut each slice as it is wanted.

If there is any dry bread left over cut it in squares, toast or brown it, and serve as croutons with soup, or crumb it by rolling it or running it through the food chopper, put in an airtight jar and use the crumbs to thicken stews and to sprinkle over made dishes which are to be baked in the oven.

Have one wheatless meal a day. If each person weekly saves one pound of wheat flour it means 150,000,000 more bushels of wheat for the allies.

Buy flour in small quantities and protect it carefully from spoilage.

Don't throw away a drop of milk. Use buttermilk and sour milk for cooking and making cottage cheese. Use less cream.

Use leftover cereals to thicken gravies and puddings.

Don't waste sugar.

Don't stint sugar in putting up fruit.

If everyone in America saves one ounce of sugar daily it means 1,100,000 tons per year saved.

Don't waste fats.

Reduce the use of fried foods.

Soap contains fats—don't throw away the little pieces.

Don't buy or serve veal. A steer produces from 800 to 900 more pounds of beef than a calf does veal.

Don't kill or cook lamb. Let the lambs live to produce their full amount of wool for clothing.

Have one meatless day a week.

If we save an ounce of meat each day per person we will have an additional supply equal to 2,200,000 cattle.

Eat fish.

Use less wheat, meat, milk, fats, sugars and fuel; more fruit, vegetables and foods that are not suitable to be sent to camps or firing lines.

Preserve, can or dry fruits and vegetables.

Buy food that is grown close to your home.

Save the fuel.

Burn fewer coal fires and use wood when you can get it.

Gather all the odd pieces of wood for fuel.

Double your use of greenstuffs and improve your health.

Store potatoes and other roots properly and they will keep.

Buy perishable food from the neighborhood nearest you.

Watch your garbage pail. A full garbage pail means an empty dinner pail.

Economize systematically.—In Woman's World for October.

School Child's Lunch

Monday—Cold pot roast sliced thin and put between whole wheat bread slices spread with a margarine; two or three little cucumber pickles wrapped in paraffin paper so as not to make the sandwiches taste of vinegar; ginger cookies; apple. A fair allowance is two sandwiches for a girl, three for a boy; three ginger cookies for a girl, four for a boy; an apple for a girl, an orange for a boy. The milk must not be omitted and can go along in a securely stoppered bottle, preferably a thermos, but a carefully kept ordinary glass bottle will do. This should be kept in as cool a place as possible until lunch time.

Tuesday—Hard boiled eggs chopped, seasoned with salt, pepper and a little melted butter, then spread between buttered bread, raisin bread, buttered and spread lightly with brown sugar, then put together two and two, sandwich fashion; an orange. Do not trim the crusts from school sandwiches; make neat slices of uniform thickness, but leave on the crusts to enforce chewing.

Wednesday—Cream cheese and nuts for sandwich filling, seasoned with celery salt and put between buttered Boston brown bread; cinnamon rolls, apple.

Thursday—Minced ham sandwiches, stuffed eggs, chocolate cake made by a simple recipe, pears.

Friday—Salmon sandwiches, cucumber pickle, stuffed dates, ginger bread.

On the general work of the church and to the particular work of the stake. He said he did not object to being called a fanatic, nor did he object to "Mormonism" being called a hoax. But he did object to the charge that has been made that the Latter Day Saints are no people on earth more sincere and, as proof, he pointed to the wonderful works of the Latter Day Saints.

The speaker called attention to the world war in recalling that a famous speaker, shortly prior to the breaking out of the war, predicted from the platform in the Salt Lake Tabernacle that there never would be a world war. His prediction was contrary to the scriptures, he said. The war was predicted in the scriptures.

Save Late Beets By Storage.

Select a well-drained location, make a shallow excavation about 6 inches deep, line it with straw, hay, leaves or similar material, and place the beets in a conical pile on the lining. Make the bottom of the pile about the same size as, but not larger than, the bottom of the excavation.

Cover the beets with the same material as that used for lining the bottom of the pit and carry it up several inches above the apex of the pile of vegetables, having it extend through the dirt covering.

This serves as a ventilating flue, and it should be covered with a piece of tin or a short board as a protection from rain.

The dirt covering should be 2 or 3 inches thick when the vegetables are stored, and it should be increased as severely cold weather approaches until it is a foot or more in thickness, or sufficient to protect from freezing. In finishing the pit, the dirt should be firmed with the back of the shovel in order to make it as nearly waterproof as possible.

The shallow trench around the base of the pit should have an outlet for carrying off the water. Supplement the dirt covering with manure, straw, corn fodder, or other protective material. Use several small pits instead of one large one, as vegetables keep better in small pits, and the entire contents may be removed when the pit is opened.

LAY IN SUPPLY OF WINTER ONIONS.

A dry, well-ventilated place, such as an attic, furnishes a good storage place for onions in winter, as slight freezing does not injure them, provided they are not handled while frozen.

To keep well, onions must be mature and thoroughly dry. Put them in ventilated barrels, baskets, crates, or loosely woven bags, as good ventilation is essential to the keeping of onions.

For further information regarding the storage of onions, see Farmers' Bulletins 354 and 879, issued by the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

Woman Saved From a Serious Surgical Operation.

Louisville, Ky.—"For four years I suffered from female troubles, headaches, and nervousness. I could not sleep, had no appetite and it hurt me to walk. If I tried to do any work, I would have to lie down before it was finished. The doctors said I would have to be operated on and I simply broke down. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the result is I feel like a new woman. I am well and strong, do all my own house work and have an eight pound baby girl. I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which every woman dreads." Mrs. NELLIE FISBACK, 1521 Christy Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Everyone naturally dreads the surgeon's knife. Sometimes nothing else will do, but many times Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved the patient and made an operation unnecessary.

If you have any symptom about which you would like to know, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for helpful advice given free.

APOSTLE JOS. F. SMITH AND DR. TALMADGE AT TABERNACLE

Jos. F. Smith Jr. was the principal speaker at the quarterly conference of the North Weber stake, held at the Tabernacle yesterday. The main theme of the meeting was that men who are wise, according to the wisdom of the world, contrary to the teachings of the ancient or modern prophets.

President James W. Henshaw presided over the meetings, assisted by his counselors, John V. Smith and Frank Stratford. The general stake and church authorities were present. A splendid musical program was given by the choir, under the direction of Prof. Jos. Ballantyne. A number of solos and duets were given by Annie Williamsen, Miss Petty, Douglas Brian, Walter Stephens, Ely Sanders, Ed Ballantyne and Miss Mildred Ware.

Nevada. He reported things prosperous and the outlook bright for large crops of all kinds. He also said the opportunities for homeseekers were excellent there.

In behalf of the Weber academy, Ernest Wilkinson, a student there, announced the opening of the school. In a most stirring address, Apostle Smith spoke to the assembled Saints at some length, his remarks being in the nature of an appeal to the audience to improve the general conditions in the church, especially because of the war. He called attention to the efforts that were being made to have the members pay their tithings at regular stated intervals, instead of waiting until the end of the year, when the lump sum is somewhat of a burden. Of education he had considerable to say, especially that offered by the church schools, its advantages being evident in the foundation it gives the young people, upon which to build their future lives.

Referring to the report by Elder Bluth, that some were neglecting their church duties, he said he deplored the fact. A reminder was given by the speaker that, although secular education is to be desired, no man is truly educated until he has a knowledge as to how to be saved. He made an appeal for the Book of Mormon, urging that all study it deeply, stating that from this book, which was the word of the Lord, knowledge could be gained as to the spiritual life and salvation.

Dr. Talmadge was the principal speaker in the afternoon session. His re-
